Wheelchair mum in drug debt revenge

A WHEELCHAIR-BOUND woman helped to kidnap and assault a man 'in the most barbaric of ways' in revenge over a drugs debt, a court heard yesterday.

The victim, Craig Green, was driven to the tenth tee at Woburn Golf and Country Club and stripped to his underpants before having the top part of his thumb removed with a hammer and chisel.

C J Gulwell, 46, of Franklin Croft, Milton Keynes is accused of the assault on Mr Green after she believed he had stolen her 'stash' of powerful skunk cannabis worth £4,000.

She appeared at Oxford Crown Court yesterday alongside Luke Gates, 18, and Andrew Brown, 18, who are charged with kidnapping and wounding Mr Green on the night of November 1, 2007.

All three deny the charges although Gulwell and her 24-year-old son Jason Gulwell have admitted kidnapping Mr Green. Jason also admits cutting off his thumb with a chisel.

Prosecution lawyer Michael Fowler QC told the court that Mr Green had been lured to C J Gulwell's house where he was accused of stealing the drugs by Gulwell and of owing her money for a car he had bought from her. She claimed he owed her £6,000 in total.

Mrs Gulwell announced they were 'going for a trip', said Mr Fowler, and Mr Green was marched out of the house to her car.

Mr Fowler said: "He was kidnapped and assaulted in the most barbaric of ways. He was taken to a remote part of Woburn golf course and with the use of a hammer and chisel his thumb was taken off from below the joint.

"He was told to strip off, which he did because of the threat, and was left without his thumb, naked but for his underpants on the golf course."

It took more than six attempts to cut off the thumb and as it flew off Jason Gulwell laughed, Mr Fowler said. The men tried to find the piece of thumb in order to burn it along with Mr Green's clothes but could not see it in the dark.

C J Gulwell arrives at Oxford Crown Court: She is accused of being part of the assault on Craig Green – who she claims stole her stash of drugs – in which his thumb was severed with a hammer and chisel

The court heard that after the thumb was hacked off, Jason Gulwell told Mr Green: 'You open your mouth and it won't be £5,000 it will be zero and dead. This is a grand off your debt."

Mr Fowler claimed that although Mrs Gulwell stayed behind in the car that she 'knew what was going to happen'.

He said: "It was her revenge being carried out."

Giving evidence Craig Green said: "It still plays on my mind. I would be lying if I said it didn't. I was pretty scared for my life."

He said that Jason Gulwell held his hand while Gates and Brown prevented him from escaping.

"I couldn't get away. I couldn't escape I was like a trapped rabbit.

"Jason swung the hammer and I saw my thumb fly past me. I didn't see where it landed. I was handed a towel and then they walked off laughing and giggling. I hid in a bush for what seemed like an eternity. I didn't know whether I would survive or not. I was in the worst place I could be."

In police interview the court heard that C J Gulwell denied any involvement in the kidnap, saying: 'How can it be anything to do with me when I am a cripple'.

Mr Fowler said: "Although she portrays herself as entirely bedridden, the Crown says she has more mobility than she is prepared to accept."

The court heard that earlier in the day the Gulwell's, Luke Gates and Andrew Brown had been heard by a witness planning to exact revenge on Craig Green for the debt.

Mr Green told the court how he was left with permanent damage to his eye socket and the nerves on his left side of the face after the beating he received from Jason Gulwell and Luke Gates in the rear of the car.

He said: "I had swelling and bruises on my face as they repeatedly punched me for about 25-30 minutes. I have no feeling in the left side of my face now and I cannot write, tie my shoelaces or cook for myself because I lost my thumb.

"I have to have constructive surgery and will have a prosthetic thumb to try and lead a civilised life."

The case continues.

Mosque murder trial

THE jury at a murder trial have been shown CCTV footage of a teenager being clubbed senseless.

Atiq Rehman, 18, was cornered in the Costcutter store at The Square in Wolverton on May 15 last year by men armed with a snooker cue and metal pole.

At day two of the trial at Luton Crown Court yesterday the jury heard that Mr Rehman was dragged outside but managed to run off towards the St John Ambulance Training Centre.

CCTV footage from the centre showed that the gang caught him in the street, attacking him before leaving him lying motionless in the gutter.

Passers by went to his aid and he was taken to hospital where he died two days later from severe head injuries.

Ghur Rehman, 26, and Haroon Awan, 22, also from Cambridge Street, both deny murder.

Two of the attackers, Bilal Zaman, 21 and Usman Ali, 20, of Cambridge Street, Wolverton, have pleaded guilty to murder and are awaiting sentence.

Two other suspects – referred to on the CCTV footage as Unknown 1 and Unknown 2 have not yet been caught.

Victim: Atiq Rehman: Cornered in the Wolverton Costcutter store

Opening his prosecution in front of Judge John Bevan prosecutor Ben Gumpert said the attack was the result of a long running dispute at the mosque in Wolverton.

He said: "In late 2006 the community who attended the Mosque at Wolverton had become divided following a disagreement as to how the Mosque should be run.

"We are not concerned with the basis of that dispute but it led to a number of incidents where violence was used."

He said there was a serious incident after Friday prayers on January 12, 2007, which involved a large number of people and weapons including metal bars, cricket bats, rolling pins, knuckle dusters and knives and some people were seriously injured.

Mr Gumpert said the murder was a deliberately planned attack on Mr Rehman and all those involved were guilty.

He said: "While I accept the people in the dock today were not the main players and they weren't armed they were there in support of those who led the attack."

The victim had been playing snooker with a friend when he realised some of the opposing groups' supporters were outside and were armed.

The jury saw footage of him seeking refuge in the Costcutters shop.

Two men, Usman Ali and the first unknown male, went into the shop but were "shooed out by the shopkeeper" before they returned, attacked Mr Rehman and dragged him outside.

The prosecutor said the two currently on trial where not physically involved in the attacks outside the shop but he alleged Ghur Rehman was involved inside the shop and Awan was acting as a look out.

VOTERS go to the polling booths tomorrow hoping to make local election history.

The council is hoping more people than ever vote on Thursday. It is looking for a 38 per cent turnout, more than 52,500 people, to make it a record year for voters.

The weather, always a factor in how big a turnout is, is expected to be a mixture of sunshine and showers. The counting starts at 9.30am on Friday at Bletchley Leisure Centre. The current make up of the council stands at Liberal Democrats 22, Conservatives 15 and Labour 14.

Bouncers 'beat my brother to death'

Up to a dozen Oceana doormen surrounded three party-goers inquest told

Members of Simon McCarthy's family were involved in a crash on their way home from the inquest into his death

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

THE family of a man who died at a city nightclub had a traumatic day when their car crashed on the way home from his inquest.

On Monday, Simon McCarthy's family attended the Civic Offices on Silbury Boulevard for the first day of an inquest into his death.

But on the way home at around 4.30pm five members of the family were in a blue Ford Explorer 4x4 that collided with a black Chrysler Cruiser at the Springfield roundabout on the V8, Marlborough Street.

Their 4x4 rolled onto its roof and one passenger, Mr McCarthy's cousin's wife, was taken to hospital for treatment to cuts on her arm.

Mr McCarthy's brother, David, was also in the vehicle along with his sister, their cousin and a family friend.

"My cousin's wife had her arm ripped up because she had it out of the window," said David.

"It was very stressful."

The inquest heard how Mr McCarthy, from Langford, Bedfordshire, was celebrating his 35th birthday at Oceana, at the Xscape when he died after an altercation with door staff on Saturday, February 24, 2007.

The inquest heard that Mr McCarthy struggled with the club's security staff and was restrained on the ground, along with his brother Mark and his brother's girlfriend.

An emotional Mr McCarthy told the inquest they were surrounded by up to 12 bouncers and felt intimidated.

He said the bouncers attacked them dragging them to the floor, pinning them down and took turns to boot him in the face.

"They basically beat us and beat my brother to death," he claimed.

The door staff told the inquest the McCarthy's group were aggressive, threw punches, kicked and bit them and needed to be controlled.

Senior assistant manager at Oceana, Mark Hickey described the scene as 'carnage' he said it was difficult to make anything out, there was a load of noise.

A statement from bouncer, Paul Hoskins said: "In the 10 years I have been working I have never feared for my life physically, I did during this awful situation."

While held on the floor face down by up to five door staff Mr McCarthy stopped breathing and efforts to resuscitate him were unsuccessful.

He was confirmed dead at Milton Keynes Hospital just after 4am.

Dr Robert Chapman, consultant pathologist, told the inquest Mr McCarthy was a very tall and heavily built man, at over 6ft 8ins tall and weighing 24 stone.

He said he died of compression injuries to his neck consistent with having been held in a head lock or by a hand, though not for a prolonged period of time.

Mr McCarthy also had bruises on many parts of his body including his face, arms, chest and back.

The inquest heard Mr McCarthy had drunk more than one and a half times the legal driving limit of alcohol at the time of his death.

The inquest is set to finish on Thursday.

PM backs MK city status bid

PRIME Minister Gordon Brown has backed Milton Keynes' bid for city status.

Mr Brown visited Bletchley Park yesterday to see a revolutionary new light bulb that has been developed at the Science and Innovation Centre.

Afterwards we asked the Prime Minister if he supported the bid for Milton Keynes to be named a city.

Mr Brown said: "Yes I do. I think Milton Keynes is an area of great potential and growth. I would like to see more city's in the UK."

The PM, accompanied by his wife Sarah took a tour of the labs at Ceravision Ltd and met with staff who have researched and developed a longer lasting, eco-friendly light bulb which will be sold around the globe.

He said it was a pleasure to visit Milton Keynes and also voiced his congratulations to MK Dons on their promotion success.

"I'm very impressed by the enthusiasm and the entrepreneurship of the people in Milton Keynes," the PM said.

"You can see what the opportunities are for the future and I do believe Milton Keynes should be very proud of the companies they have got."

Letters to The Editor, MK NEWS, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, Milton Keynes MK15 0DU | letters@mk-news.co.uk

Local democracy should not be sneered at

SIR – It is a pity Mr Walker of Middleton has perhaps not considered standing as a candidate in Milton Keynes elections himself ('what the glory-seeking, self-centred windbags are going to do for us if we elect them').

My first wish (23 years ago) was to help local people; my second was to support a political party that would make MK a better place to live and educate and bring up children I would not issue a great list of achievements, but I do believe we have good modern schools,a national reputation for recycling and a very successfull business and retail centre, in a locality that most residents enjoy living in.

When our fuel prices were well above everywhere else I helped organise a public demonstration outside BP offices that appeared on BBC and Central Television.

BP gave a commitment as a result that they would lower their prices to 'the South-Eastern average', which I believe they have honoured.

I also got all party support for MK to join the UN Peace Messenger Cities,this is a reflection of the good work of the Peace and Justice Centre and having the first Peace Pagoda in Western Europe built here.

There will be some good and able councillors who may lose their seats tomorrow – hopefully somebody else will pick up their local tasks, by telephone, visits or e-mail of constituents problems, concerns and needs.

I believe local democracy should not be so rudely sneered at by your reader and a significant vote tomorrow will help newly elected members to form a good new council.

Alderman Alan Pugh
Linden Grove, Great Linford

Seeing red at green crossing lights

SIR – Planners seem to be set on littering Milton Keynes with more and more unnecessary street furniture.

I am not alone in reacting with incredulity at the apparent wastefulness of the ramped and light-controlled pedestrian crossings on Silbury and Avebury Boulevards in Campbell Park in areas where there is scarcely any pedestrian traffic and unlikely to be any for a long time to come.

Here we have eiight green lights burning continuously and needlessly, presumably paid for from our council taxes, when we are urged to save electricity, switch off unnecessary lights and use low energy bulbs to save the planet!

The next thing we know their default setting will be red and, with added cameras, they will be nice little revenue-earners for the council.

These two crossings must have been extremely costly to construct and I can't help thinking the money would have been more wisely spent repairing potholes and making badly needed road improvements in hundreds of places around the city.

If, and it is a very big IF, there are sufficient pedestrians to warrant such expenditure what is it wrong with simple zebra crossings with dropped kerbs instead of road ramps?

Why install controlled crossings in an almost pedestrian-free area when such crossings have been required for years on the busy Silbury Boulevard by the council offices, the library and Lloyd's Court where traffic commonly moves at 40mph and more?

M F Anderson
Woughton on the Green

Dog do run run

SIR – Would it be possible for you to publish The Redway Code which is available free from the local library?

I am bringing this to the attention of your readers because I am growing tired of confronting people on a daily basis using the Redway paths who have no idea that such a code exists.

As a keen cyclist I use the redway three or four times a week in an effort to keep myself fit. Other times I walk. I am continually frustrated but the attitude of some of the users, particularly dog walkers. They seem to think that their dogs do not require leads and are free to defecate wherever they want.

I see them on many occasions walking on, yards ahead of the dog not knowing that it is relieving itself in the middle of the path.

I confronted one lady who had three dogs running around, one of which had just fouled on the footpath. I then asked if she picked up their droppings and she said 'always', so I pointed out to her that one of them had just messed and she had not picked it up. I then received a string of foul abuse.

Many dog walkers are very considerate towards other Redway users. The council is doing its bit by providing dog poo bags free of charge.

As for cyclists, I am amazed at how many do not use a bell. So come on bikers get a bell and use it and if people step aside thank them.

Mr M McDougall
Upper Stonehays, Great Linford

Congratulations to the Dons' Chairman Pete

SIR – I would like to congratulate MK Dons for their fantastic achievement of winning League Two and the Johnstone's Paint Trophy this year.

I was very pleased to see the way in which chairman Pete Winkelman has encouraged local families to attend the football matches by keeping affordable entrance fees for families, old age pensioners and young people.

Considering the stadium being new the ticket prices are low when compared to other teams in Division 2.

It is nice to see that the price is not going to be increased for next season either.

Congratulations to Pete Winkelman for attracting local youngsters to football matches.

The club's Community Scheme provides highly experienced, qualified and professional coaches to train young football players in Milton Keynes.

MK Dons is not only a football club, it is also becoming part and parcel of the Milton Keynes community.

The success of the Dons for this football season can be attributed to the chairman, the very unassuming and quiet manager Paul Ince, the players and above all the support given by the local people in their thousands.

I was very pleased that more than 30,000 supporters from Milton Keynes went to Wembley for the final of the Johnstone's Paints Trophy.

Well done MK Dons and Pete Winkelman.

Meet the 'beaks'

SIR – We need to recruit about ten new magistrates in Milton Keynes each year, and so we are very keen to meet people who are thinking of applying and to give them all the information they need.

Anyone considering applying can find out more by attending an Open Morning, where you will see the courts operating, in the company of an experienced magistrate.

Your guide will be pleased to talk to you about becoming a magistrate, and what is involved. If you are an adult British citizen, and can demonstrate that you have intelligence, common sense, integrity and the capacity to act fairly, we would be pleased to meet you.

If appointed after the selection process, you will be fully trained, and then required to sit approximately once a fortnight in court to carry out the work.

Employers must give time off for these duties: if the time is unpaid, a loss of earnings allowance can be claimed from the courts service.

The dates for this year's Open Mornings are Tuesday, May 6, Wednesday, June 4, Thursday, July 3 and Tuesday, August 5. Each session lasts from 9.45m until 1 pm. Places are limited and must be booked in advance on a special telephone line, 07947 426619, or e-mail mkmic@hotmail.co.uk

Site for sore eyes

SIR – I understand why the old Wyvale Garden Centre has been demolished but I just hope the site isn't left vacant for years to come.

I had noticed that the place was attracting undesirables and I agree with chief environmental officer Phil Winsor that something needed to be done as it had become an eyesore and a safety risk.

Let's hope that the council can use this prime piece of land for a decent development and by that I don't mean a multi-storey car park.

Going to town

SIR – All this talk of Milton Keynes being a city and the place has been shortlisted for a top town award!

MK is not a city even though many people refer to it as one. We are a town and proud of it so let's hope we can beat off the competition and take our rightful place as a number one town.

Rob Caulfield and Amanda Selby outside the garden shed which could become their home

Couple may have to sleep in shed

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

THIS man claims he will be forced to move into a garden shed at his sister's house because he cannot find shelter in Milton Keynes.

Rob Caulfield, 22, and his pregnant 16-year-old girlfriend fear they will have to share a single mattress in the small shed after learning that their one bed council flat in Stacey Bushes is to be bulldozed.

Mr Caulfield said he spent a year living in the shed after his sister, Tanya Pierce, found him sleeping under a bus shelter in the city centre.

Mrs Pierce said: "One day I was out shopping, I saw someone wrapped in a blanket in the bus shelter and it was my brother.

"He was a mess - it was upsetting. I had to stick him in the shed because there's no room in my house.

"The council told him to go to a homeless shelter and gave him a list of private accommodation but he needed a place of his own."

His sister cleared out the shed, threw in a mattress and added a small electric heater while Mr Caulfield slept inside the shed through the winter months.

A year later things were looking up for Mr Caulfield when he was given temporary accommodation in Stacey Bushes and a crisis loan from the council.

Cold comfort: Rob Caulfield and Amanda Selby who is pregnant

But news last week that Snowberry Close is to be demolished as part of a huge redevelopment scheme coincides with the end of his tenancy.

Mr Caulfield says his £40-a-week benefit money will not cover the cost of private accommodation and refuses to share a shelter home after he was assaulted on a previous occasion.

He said: "I will have to move into the shed because there's nowhere else to go.

"I'm not having much luck finding work at the moment so I can't afford a room somewhere."

A council spokesman was unavailable for comment.

Memorial service for ex-deputy head

HUNDREDS of former pupils and colleagues were due to attend a memorial service this morning following the death of a popular schoolteacher.

Former Lord Grey deputy head Linda Lennox died at Milton Keynes Hospital on Sunday, April 20. She had been diagnosed with ovarian cancer four years ago.

An inquest into her death heard on Friday that 56-year-old Mrs Lennox had undergone chemotherapy and surgery but the cancer recurred a year ago.

She had been in and out of hospital in the weeks leading to her death.

Her son, John Lennox, claimed she contracted the clostridium difficile infection (c.diff) three weeks before she died.

Mrs Lennox was readmitted to the hospital on April 17 with a suspected bowl obstruction. She deteriorated and died three days later.

The coroner is awaiting the results of a postmortem to establish a clear cause of death. The inquest was adjourned until June.

Mr Lennox said his mother was a 'fine lady' and that the family hope for some closure from the inquest.

He added that within 24 hours of a group being set up on social networking website Facebook in tribute of his mother, 400 messages had been written

Mrs Lennox, who had two children, was born in Sunderland.

The memorial service took place at The Church of Christ the Cornerstone.

Restaurant quarter plans boost centre

The colonnade at Queens Court

THIS is set to be the future of Queens Court at thecentre:mk

A stylish new restaurant quarter is part of a £10m proposal for the site and signals the beginning of an estimated £20m investment programme at the shopping centre.

The open public square links the two main halls and will see four restaurant units built on the east and west sides of the court, with undercover seating in a winter garden-style colonnade overlooking the revitalised central courtyard. The colonnade will have fully retractable glass doors, enabling customers to sit outside when the weather is good.

There will also be extensive landscaping to make a more welcoming and contemporary environment.

Work will include hard landscaping, trees, benches, a new raised water feature and lighting including LED lighting strips inserted in the paving, uplighters into trees, under seat lighting for benches and under-pool lighting to create a halo effect.

The idea is to open up the area to the public both during the day and night.

Jon Weymouth of PRUPIM, the development manager for thecentre:mk, said: "These proposals are extremely exciting for thecentre:mk and will be the first time it has had a dedicated restaurant quarter which will give our shoppers a far greater choice of quality dining.

"These improvements are vital if Milton Keynes is to maintain its attractiveness as a regional shoping destination while the review of the wider development programme for thecentre:mk is completed."

Robert Goodman, centre director of thecentre:mk added: "This is great news for Milton Keynes, turning Queens Court into a stylish contemporary restaurant destination for the city centre. The high quality restaurants we will be introducing will create a vibrant atmosphere where people will want to meet up during the day and stay in the evening."

The proposals go before Milton Keynes Council this week. If approved work is set to get underway before the end of the year and completed in summer 2009.

Teachers' strike effect patchy

SCHOOLS across Milton Keynes were forced to close as teachers went on strike over pay last Thursday

The National Union of Teachers (NUT) organised the walk-out as teachers took part in their first national strike in 21 years.

More than 14,000 pupils in Milton Keynes were affected, with 13 per cent of schools in the area fully closed and 25 per cent only partially open.

Overall, 40 per cent of pupils were not at school with eleven primary schools and one secondary closed down for the day and 18 primary and eight secondary schools closing some year groups and classes.

Special schools were also affected, with two closed and two others partially open.

Headteachers made the final decision on whether a school should close based on staffing levels and the health and safety implications.

A spokesman for Milton Keynes Council, which supported schools with key information and advice, said: "Schools are to be congratulated on minimising the impact of the NUT strike last week.

"While a small number of schools were closed, many more were able to carry on as normal.

"The council wants to thank those teachers who ensured that children and young people's education was not affected."

David Gamble, group director of school improvement and planning said: "This was a great effort by our teachers and headteachers who rallied round and put the education of their pupils first.

"This demonstrates the magnificent commitment of the local teaching force."

The NUT decided to strike over a 2.4 per cent pay offer from the Government for teachers in England and Wales this year.

Officials say it is below the rate of retail price inflation, which stands at around four per cent.

Other teaching unions accepted the deal.

Colleges were also affected, as the University and Colleges Union (UCU) called its members out on strike over their 2008/09 pay claim.

Deborah Berkin

IN last week's newspaper we said in a headline that Deborah Berkin had been banned from keeping horses and ponies for ten years for 'abuse'.

As we stated within the article she actually pleaded guilty to failing to supply adequate water and food for them. We are happy to set the record straight.

Some of the cannabis plants and growing equipment found at the Albert Street address in Bletchley

Drugs cops uncover plants in wardrobe

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

Cannabis plants growing in a wardrobe

FOUR people were arrested as police raided a family home and found cannabis plants growing inside.

Acting on a tip-off officers stormed through the back garden of the house, in Albert Street, Bletchley at 8am last Wednesday.

They arrested four adults on suspicion of possession of class C drugs with intent to supply.

Officers from the firearms squad and four from the local neighbourhood police team executed the warrant.

In an upstairs bedroom they found a wardrobe containing 12 fully-cultivated plants and a garden shed contained 25 more.

They also found seedlings, making a total of 46 plants.

The house was littered with guide books on how to grow the drug, a poster showing how to roll a joint and other drugs paraphernalia.

Neighbourhood officer Marcia Hardy said: "They have done their research to stock and supply controlled substances into the community.

"But there was a strong smell in the back garden and the wind carries the fumes.

"People see that drug dealing is taking place and they tell their neighbourhood officers because they know they can trust them."

Three men, aged 44, 43 and 18, were arrested and have been released on bail until June.

A 19-year-old woman was arrested at the property and has been released with a caution.

PC John Braithwaite said: "Thanks to community intelligence we have been able to shut down this farm and stop the supply of cannabis from this property.

"We will not tolerate drug factories in Milton Keynes.

"We will continue to shut them down and put a stop to drug dealers coming into Milton Keynes and setting up cannabis farms.

"There could possibly be others in other estates in MK and it is vital residents should be aware of any signs and contact the police if they suspect anything."

■ Members of the neighbourhood team can be contacted on 08458 505 505.

Trading Standards get new powers

TRADING Standards watchdogs from Milton Keynes Council will soon have more powers to tackle dodgy doorstep traders and high pressure sales tactics.

The Consumer Protection from Unfair Trading Practices Regulations 2008 has just come into force.

This will allow Milton Keynes Trading Standards Service to clamp down on unfair sales and marketing practices; protecting consumers and honest businesses from rogue traders who are believed to cost the economy £3million pounds per year.

Companies will no longer be able to hard sell.

Trading Standards will use these powers to target those businesses that consistently break the law such as doorstep traders who call on consumers at home and offer to carry out building work then charge exorbitant fees.

Senior Trading Standards officer Allan Martin said: "This legislation will catch the traders who have in the past persistently operated within loop holes in the law, and allow us to target the more general areas of unfair trading."

For further information visit the website www.tradingstandards.gov.uk/milton-keynes.

Any consumers in Milton Keynes who feel they have been the victim of doorstep crime or who may have information regarding rogue traders should call Trading Standards on 01908 252504.

Medieval theme at Bletchley's carnival

CARNIVAL time is almost upon us.

West Bletchley Carnival, supported by MK NEWS, is back on Saturday, June 7 and now in its seventh year.

This year's theme takes us back to medieval times so expect lots of jesters, knights in shining armour and damsels in distress.

It was a time of kings and their knights and the mythical Robin Hood and his merry band of men.

The star attraction in the main arena this year will be The Horses Impossible Medieval show; in full period costume they will be demonstrating the amazing fighting skills of the knights of the period. Listen to the thunder of horse's hooves – watch as the mounted knights' challenge each other with lances. Can Odious the Black Knight defeat the Earl of Warwick?

Also in the main arena and continuing the theme will be the spectacular Knights of the Crusades followed by Dingle Fingle and the Clowntown Watch.

This year the carnival is going back to its roots with the parade starting from its original Melrose Avenue home.

Starting at 1pm, the parade of floats, dancers, street artists, and a steel band will snake up Whaddon Way to the main event at Rickley Park.

The dance tent will this year be transformed, courtesy of Horizon Radio.

There will be a fairground and bouncy castles, refreshments bar and food from around the world.

JP Jazz will entertain in the tea tent.

The chosen charity for 2008 is the Thames and Chiltern Air Ambulance.

Will Odious the Black Knight defeat the Earl of Warwick? Find out as The Horses Impossible medieval show stars at this year's West Bletchley Carnival

Many local groups will be running stalls to raise funds for a wide variety of worthy charities.

■ If you want to enter a float, book a stall or just take part contact West Bletchley Council on 01908 648257 or e-mail carnival@westbletchleycouncil.gov.uk

Police advertise crime-drop figures

AN advertising campaign has been launched by Thames Valley Police to tell people that crime has dropped.

Adverts have been placed on "ad vans" and with local radio stations to publicise police statistics which show a drop in overall crime in the Thames Valley region.

A nine per cent drop in crime was reported at a meeting of the Police Authority on Friday.

Chief Constable Sara Thornton said: "We know that people's perception of crime is much higher than the reality. I hope that by publicising the fact that overall crime has dropped in Thames Valley last year will provide reassurance to local communities."

The ad campaign also aims to encouraging people to join Neighbourhood Watch and Neighbourhood Action Groups.

The report said there were 11,408 fewer victims in Berkshire, Buckinghamshire and Oxfordshire last year.

Members of the Police Authority selected five targets that they thought were most important to the people of Thames Valley.

These were: answering non-emergency calls quickly, investigating domestic abuse, investigating hate crime, reducing crime and improving the police sanction detection rate for offences of non-domestic violence involving injury.

A statement from Thames Valley Police said the force expects to receive an overall grading of excellent for these local priorities from the Home Office.

The end is in sight for roadworks

ROADWORKS at the A5 Abbey Hill Roundabout are due to be completed next month.

The improvements, which started in September 2007, aim to ensure that Milton Keynes' highway infrastructure can handle the projected increase in traffic as the city continues to grow.

It has involved the realignment and widening of carriageways on the junction of the A5 and H3 and approaches and adding traffic signals to the roundabout.

The traffic signals at the roundabout will be computer controlled and will be fully operational in early May.

■ A series of overnight closures is to take place at Pineham and Fox Milne roundabouts during May for road re-surfacing in connection with the M1 J14 area improvement scheme.

Only one roundabout will be closed at any time and work is expected to take four nights at each site.

Pineham Roundabout is the first in the programme and work starts on Wednesday night. During this closure an alternative route will be signposted via V10, Brickhill Street and H6 Childs Way.

For more information call 07880 788658 orgo to www.mkweb.co.uk/roadworks

Arson attack: The damaged bird hide on Walton Lake

Arsonists burn down bird hide

A POPULAR bird hide has been destroyed by vandals.

The hide at Walton Lake, Milton Keynes was burnt down on Sunday afternoon and caused £8,500 of damage.

The Parks Trust, the charity which owns and manages the site, is appealing for any witnesses observing suspicious behaviour at Walton Lake over the weekend to contact the police.

The bird hide is one of two built on the lake with a boardwalk that gives bird enthusiasts and nature lovers a route through the reeds and an opportunity to see the bird and waterlife close-up.

Commenting on the incident David Foster, chief executive at The Parks Trust said: "Walton Lake is rich in wildlife, such as reed warblers, frogs and dragonflies.

"It is a great park for local people to enjoy and only last week we held Frog Day here with 170 children enjoying the park and wildlife activities.

"We're really disappointed by this attack. The destruction of this hide means that we may have to re-think what facilities we can offer at this site in the future."

The Parks Trust is urging its park users to be vigilant and to report any suspicious behaviour straight away to the police on 0845 8505505.

Jobless kids get movie-making chance

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

UNEMPLOYED teenagers can picture a brighter future thanks to a movie production project.

Starting in May the charity Rathbone is again launching its 'All about Me' programme, which provides young people with training in all aspects of film-making from script writing to editing and acting.

The month-long programme has previously helped over 20 young people progress and gain skills for use in the film and media industry.

Rathbone, which is based on Dawson Road, Mount Farm, enables young people who have had problems at school or home to turn their lives around.

Teresa Kingwell, senior training advisor for the charity's Milton Keynes branch said: "All about Me encourages creativity, inspires self-belief and teaches trainees teamwork and personal responsibility."

"These are vital skills in every walk of life, including show business."

The plots of the films created by the youngsters are centred around trainees' lives and are tied-in with visits from drug action groups, dyslexia campaigns and the Youth Information Service.

Seventeen-year-old Trudi Heathfield, from Shenley Brook End, co-produced 'a comedy geek love story' on the course and now dreams of becoming a make-up artist to the stars.

She said being at Rathbone has been fun and given her the confidence to live independently: "If I hadn't gone there, I would've been sitting around doing nothing," she said.

Fundraising firemen hop off to France

TWO firefighters are planning to cycle 181 miles (292 kilometres) in three days through two European countries in a bid to raise cash for charity.

Ashley Tugby, from Green Watch, Broughton Fire Station, and Jason Hodgkiss, from Long Buckby Fire Station in Northants, have pledged to raise £1,250 each for the Meningitis Trust by taking part in the London to Paris Cycle Challenge.

Ashley, 39, has worked for Buckinghamshire Fire & Rescue Service for two years, and is also a Retained Duty System firefighter with Jason at Long Buckby. He decided to take on the challenge after seeing first-hand the effect meningitis can have on sufferers and their families, when the son of a close friend recently contracted the illness.

He approached Jason with details of the trust's charity cycle ride in February. Jason, 38, and a keen cyclist, was eager to take on the challenge with him.

Ashley said: "We wanted to be able to help raise awareness of meningitis and the charity which offers support to those it effects, as well as helping to raise funds for the charity."

Alongside work commitments and fire-fighting duties the pair are trying to follow the suggested training programme, in the lead up to the challenge which takes place between 4 and 7 July.

Ashley added: "Although we do cycle regularly this will be the first time either of us has attempted anything on this scale."

The pair's challenge starts on Friday, July 4 when they will leave Crystal Palace at 7.30am. They will travel around 59 miles (95km) through the streets of London then undulating countryside, before reaching Newhaven in time to catch the 5.30pm Dieppe ferry. They will finish the day at 11pm in France with a 1.7-mile (2.8km) cycle from the port to the overnight stop.

The following day they aim to cycle the 50 miles (80km) between Dieppe and Gournay en Bray, with the final part of the journey, the 71 miles (114km) from Gournay en Bray to the Eiffel Tower in Paris, taking place on Sunday, July 6.

Cheques made payable to Meningitis Trust or donate on-line at www.justgiving.com/ashleyandjason-london-paris

School fundraisers reach science specialism target

HAZELEY school is celebrating after reaching its £50,000 fundraising target to bid for science specialism.

The whole school has been busy raising money for the last year in order to apply to the government to become a specialist science college.

"It's been heavy going but thanks to the dedication of pupils, staff and the local community we are delighted to have reached our goal," said head teacher Iain Denning.

As well as parents and pupils taking part in money-spinning events the school has also received donations from local organisations and companies, most recently DeeJacks Ltd which worked on the building contract for phase two of the school.

Mr Denning added: "We are obviously very grateful for everyone's hard work and generosity. I have been working on the bid process and I am pleased to say it has been submitted to the government so we now have a nervous wait until September for the result. Science and maths are both key skills needed for the economic well being of Milton Keynes."

Football ban for racist

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A MAN who yelled racist chants at MK Dons players has been banned from watching football matches for three years.

Alan Liddiard, 38, from Abercrombie Avenue, High Wycombe pleaded guilty to chanting in an indecent or racialist nature at Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court on Thursday (April 24).

The incident happened at the MK Dons home game against Wycombe Wanderers on April 12.

Club stewards identified Liddiard as being responsible for a number of racist chants being made to MK Dons players and he was arrested.

Liddiard has been banned from attending all domestic and international matches for three years and fined £200, with £60 costs.

PC Jimmy O'Brien, football intelligence officer in MK, said: "We will not tolerate any form of disorder at football matches and in particular any racist behaviour.

"Those who insist on acting in this manner should be aware we will always make the strongest request on football banning orders where appropriate."

SO where are the best places to eat in Milton Keynes?

MK NEWS, MK WEB and Kimbells Solicitors have teamed up to launch The Milton Keynes Restaurant of the Year 2008 Awards to find out.

This time around we have been joined by sponsor Savills in launching the awards.

Its a fantastic opportunity to recognise those restaurants and eateries in Milton Keynes which YOU think are the 'best'.

The awards were introduced in 2007 to raise awareness of eating out in the MK area and to identify the high fliers among our restaurants and eateries.

Diners are being asked to contribute to raising the profile of dining out in Milton Keynes by voting for the restaurants they feel deserve special recognition.

Over a three month period members of the public will be able to give their feedback on the places where they most like to eat. An expert panel of judges will then visit short listed restaurants to confirm the winners.

Every type of venue has a realistic opportunity to gain recognition through the range of categories in which judging will take place, whether it's a pub with a food offer, a restaurant focused on providing business lunches, relaxed eating out for the family or dedicated to 'fine dining'.

Categories:
Best business lunch
Best service
Best newcomer
(covering any restaurant which has opened in Milton Keynes in the last year)

Voting includes scoring venues on food, service, ambience and value.

The awards extend beyond Milton Keynes to cover areas including Woburn, Buckingham, Stony Stratford and outlying villages.

All you have to do is fill in voting cards on tables in restaurants, through forms printed in MK NEWS, online at MK WEB or by accessing the website at www.restaurantoftheyear.co.uk

By voting you will be entered into a draw and if successful win a meal for two at the Restaurant of the Year winner.

The venues shortlisted by you will be judged by an expert panel which will visit the restaurants on the shortlist as 'mystery diners'. The winners will be announced later in the year.

MILTON KEYNES COUNCIL

Mk College team with their runners up medals after the SESSA Challenge Cup Final

Cup woe for college

AN amazing season for the MK NEWS-sponsored Milton Keynes College football team culminated in an agonising defeat at the SESSA Challenge Cup Final last Wednesday.

The narrow 1-0 defeat to Brunel University capped a remarkable rise for the college team.

An evenly matched first half came to life when MK midfielder Elis Spence hit the post with a great header from a long throw by Jamie O'Grady. But, almost immediately, Brunel broke down the left and took the lead from a header.

It was all action as MK College striker Fahmi Tulla made a great turn in the box but was brought down before he could get his shot off.

The ref immediately pointed to the spot. Harry Newbould stepped up but the kick was saved by the Brunel keeper. MK continued to push forward and Jamie O'Grady shot just wide from the edge of the box.

The second half saw the college continuing to press for an equaliser and another header hit the post.

Jamie O'Grady continued to torment the Brunel defence down the right delivering some great crosses that the College was just unable to convert. In the last minute of the game, the Brunel keeper pulled off another remarkable save tipping the ball over the bar as it seemed certain to loop into the net.

MK College team manager Mark Walsh said "I'm gutted. The team was brilliant and in no way were they outplayed. I'm so proud of the team, they've given their all this season and have been totally professional both on and off the pitch – they are a real credit to the College".

The team had already won the league this season.

DISCIPLINE
Nine Inch Nails

SOMETIMES, the old ways are the best. Years and years ago, bands would release songs as and when they felt like it. I'll give you an example if you like.

New Order released Blue Monday and it went on to become the biggest selling 12ins single in history. A few months later the album (Power, Corruption and Lies) came out and Blue Monday wasn't on it.

Now that's something that wouldn't happen today – if a major record label somehow manages to get a massive hit, you can bet your life they'd either make sure it appeared on the new album, or if the album was already out, they'd re-issue it with the song tacked onto the end.

Times are changing however, and right now bands like Nine Inch Nails and Radiohead are showing what can happen if you've got a big enough fanbase to get away with it.

Not only is this new single completely free, it's so new that they've released it almost as soon as it was completed. If that's not enough, if you think the song doesn't sound good enough as it is, all the parts for it are available online so you can even remix the thing yourself.

It's not quite vintage Nine Inch Nails, but even a sub-standard Nine Inch Nails song is better than the vast majority of the songs you hear on the radio, and this'll do nicely.

After his foray into the world of instrumental weirdness, Trent Reznor's gone back to basics here, which basically means he sings on this one. It roars along at a decent pace, and for some reason the fade-out leads me to wonder whether there's a longer version of this that's going to appear on a forthcoming album.

Thing is, you never know what they're going to do until they've already released it. It's nice to see that there are still some bands about who can still genuinely surprise everybody, including their own fans. That's no mean feat.

OUTTA MY HEAD (AY YA YA)
Ashlee Simpson

IT'S got a stupid title and I can't imagine that Timbaland will want to put this song too high up on his CV, not when he's got the likes of Justin Timberlake and Nelly Furtado to shout about. It also sounds like a song that's been rediscovered after hiding in someone's record collection since 1982.

It's daft, it's ridiculous, but it doesn't quite overstep the proper song / childish rubbish mark and that's the key. It's not even like this is a first either, when she released Boyfriend I liked that one too. I hope that doesn't mean I'm mellowing out, tell you what, I'll be back in a while, I'm off to listen to Garbage's first album. If I come back to you complaining about the racket, then that'll mean I'm mellowing out.

GOOD MORNING
Sparks

KATE Nash wishes she could do a song like this.

The Hoosiers wish they could do a song like this.

Jolly piano-led pop, but with brilliant lyrics. Basically the singer wakes up one morning next to somebody with looks to die for, but can't for the life of him remember what happened the previous evening.

Doesn't matter though, he comes to the conclusion that he must've had an absolutely fantastic night so he says a little prayer of thanks to God for thinking of him. A decent tune, awesome lyrics, all in all the complete package.

Snowflake (detail), 2007

CATHY WILKES
Until June 8
CATHY Wilkes' work is characterised by the creation of a slowly emerging personal vocabulary of sculptures and paintings that the artist makes and re-makes inevolving assemblages and environments.

Her processes are measured and refined and draw on the most intimate of personal experiences to create a compelling autobiographical thread coupled with a precise and liberated formal language.

A Sony television, a Maclaren baby buggy, a jar of Bonne Maman apricot preserve for example, all appear in her installations as a catalogue of readymades.

The installations 'are in such a state of perpetual change in which repetition relates more to the biological rather than to the industrial. Central to the feminine sphere is the notion of invisible labour, present in all aspects of everyday life yet kept outside of the systems of material and symbolic gratification'.

MKMUSEUM

Back in time – and time again

ISN'T it time you discovered what your local museum has to offer?

For years, visitors questioned on leaving the museum are almost all in agreement, they have had a great time. Some go much further, saying that their families have enjoyed the experience far more than visits to some of the great museums – one young French student, for example, when asked why he had returned three days after his first visit replied that it was much better than the Louvre.

What evokes this strong support? Undoubtedly it stems from the hands-on approach of the museum.

The Telephone Museum is perhaps most appreciated. There are switchboards to operate; exchange equipment to investigate; old telephones galore and all working.

It is surprising how many parents and grandparents can recall their days as telephone operators and the 'press button A and B box' evokes a time when few people had a telephone.

In the parlour there are a range of Victorian activities – many families congregate excitedly around the puff-billiard table, cheering as balls are pocketed and when the noise dies away they are able to hear the Polyphon's musical-box-like notes or the tunes from the pianola. Not that it is fun without a theme.

Hanging in the parlour is a portrait of one of the first practitioners of modern medicine, Dr John Radcliffe.

His success in treating the rich and famous made him the highest paid doctor of the time and in 1713 he became Tory MP for Buckingham and bought the nearby Wolverton Estate.

Stacey Hill Farm, that now houses the museum, was one of the farms on the estate that furnished the funds to support the infirmary, observatory and library at Oxford until 1970.

Another main theme of the museum centres around transport, and in particular, the railway works at Wolverton, the first purpose-built railway town in the world.

The next destination for families tends to be the schoolroom where they can choose to be Victorian pupils, completing exercises on their slates and experiencing the back-straightener and finger-stocks or the cane-wielding teacher.

After a ride on the rocking horse among the toy collection, it is into the Victorian and wartime gardens. You might be challenged by an old cockney member of the Home Guard but even when he is not on duty you can go down into the Anderson shelter and shudder at the reverberating sounds of an air raid.

The kettle will be steaming on the kitchen range and then you can stroll among local shops as they used to be – The Angel Inn from Stony, the Post-Office from Ridgemont, Benford's Butchers from Fenny , a section of the Newport Pagnell Co-op, and more.

Once the major part of the collection, farming is still significant but largely restricted to the threshing barn. Milking the model cow or using a yoke to carry buckets might seem trivial but children enjoy having a go and may remember something about cows and the way that fresh, healthy milk is produced.

On one side of the Tea Room is the farm labourer's cottage – a contrast from the home of the wealthy farmer and on the other a printing display, now all working thanks to a team retired from the Wolverton-based McCorquodales printers.

The largest steam tram ever built commands attention in the Hall of Transport but most youngsters prefer to sit in the gypsy caravan and let their imagination carry them along.

The fine early example of the heavy oil engine, patented before that of Diesel by Ackroyd Stuart in Fenny Stratford, sits by the Newport Pagnell horse-drawn fire engine.

Most visitors need at least two hours to look around and many return time and again.

BROUGHTON FISH & CHIPS

Tanfield Lane, Broughton
01908 239100

BROUGHTON Fish and Chips has picked up a string of industry awards for the standard of its food.

The chippie was named regional fish and chip shop of the year, area winner for Central and South England and picked up a five star food hygiene award from Milton Keynes Council this month.

In October, owner Stephen Wilding was rushed to hospital when he received an electric shock at work.

But now things are looking brighter after the awards by industry body Seafish.

Stephen was presented with the awards by TV chef Ainsley Harriot at the Sandringham suite of London's Royal Garden Hotel, beating off competitors from Beds, Herts and Bucks.

Deborah and Stephen Wilding from Broughton Fish & Chips

He said: "It's not bad for our first year. You can't get any better than five stars. I'm made up!"

The chippies were assessed on their commitment to building a healthy and viable future, as well as ensuring the highest standards of product quality, service, cleanliness and innovation.

On top of the industry award, the shop picked up five stars in Milton Keynes Council's 'Scores on the Doors' system, whereby restaurants, takeaways are graded from 0 to 5 stars, following an inspection from Environmental Health team.

Liverpudlian Mr Wilding and his wife Deborah opened the shop in April 2007.

They are keen on keeping their business environmentally friendly so recycle their packaging material such as cardboard, glass and plastic; source their fresh fish from a sustainable stock; their potatoes locally where possible and use state-of-the-art environmentally friendly equipment.

The shop is open for lunch Monday to Saturday from 11.30am until 2pm and for dinner 4.30pm until 10pm.

MKBUSINESS

British Chambers of Commerce director general David Frost

Chamber helps firms become business park 'crime busters'

MILTON Keynes Chamber of Commerce held the first of its 'Safer Business Parks' events at Knowlhill specifically to support the businesses based within business parks.

Hosted by emw law, based in Knowlhill, the event aimed to raise awareness within the business community of the various precautions that they can take, as well as highlighting the common criminal activities that can seriously affect commercial organisations.

The event began with Rita Spada, chief executive of the Chamber of Commerce, talking about the recent British Chambers of Commerce crime survey which highlighted the true cost of crime to British businesses, estimated to be over £12 billion. 58 per cent of businesses have experienced at least one incidence of crime in the last 12 months and most commonly the crimes included burglary and damage to vehicles and property.

But maybe more importantly 28 per cent chose not to report the incidents to the police, with many citing lack of confidence in the police response or that it would be too time-consuming as the reason.

Other speakers included Thames Valley Police, emw law and a representative from Towergate Risk Solutions and all focussed on the need to work together to help prevent crime before it happens and to make all parties aware of crimes when they do occur.

Robert Cain, principal at emw law spoke on the various crimes that can be committed electronically via websites, e-mails and through computer networks either externally or by your own staff.

Thames Valley Police informed businesses of the 'Ringmaster' e-mail scheme specifically aimed at improving the communication between the police and the business community.

After the event Rita Spada said: "The plan is to hold these events across Milton Keynes business parks to help our members and the wider business community to be fully informed of the issues surrounding crime including prevention techniques and how to respond if they do find themselves affected.

"The Chamber of Commerce plays a vital role within Milton Keynes to widen the communication channels and help prevent crime before it happens."

■ For more information on the 'Safer Business Parks' initiative contact the Milton Keynes Chamber of Commerce on 01908 259000 or via www.mk-chamber.co.uk.

MK law firm says 'howdy partners'

MILTON Keynes commercial law firm, Kimbells, has promoted three of its senior solicitors to partnership.

All are commercial property specialists and members of the firm's 25-strong property team.

Chris Ainsworth can truly live up to the claim of being 'home grown'. He joined Kimbells as a legal assistant, trained and qualified with the firm and has progressed through the ranks.

He works exclusively with leisure sector clients, such as Bedford-based Charles Wells and brewer and pub operator, Scottish & Newcastle.

Mark Marston, who has a background at city firms Nabarros and Denton Wilde Sapte, also specialises in advising within the hospitality industry.

He has specific expertise in working with hotels and works with Whitbread's Premier Inns and Corus Hotels.

Valerie Warman joined Kimbells in 1999 having built a track record at a leading real estate law firm in London.

She has substantial experience of logistics and childcare sectors and recently acted for local company, White Clarke Group, on their new HQ at Woodlands Business Park in Milton Keynes.

Senior partner, Peter Holden, said: "It is extremely positive that we are nurturing our own talent to develop partners who will take an active part in the continued growth and success of the firm".

Improving skills

MORE than 40,000 employers in our region have admitted their business is suffering due to skills gaps.

In response to the deficit, learndirect Business is offering employers the chance to improve the skills of their workforce with the launch of a new NVQ (National Vocational Qualification) programme.

The new programme will provide a range of key business qualifications covering areas such as management, customer service and team leading.

Malcolm Ming, south east regional director of learndirect said: "Some 18 per cent of businesses in the South East region are reporting a skills gap.

"With this mismatch between the current skills of their workforce and those which they need, it is vital that employers look at boosting skills to improve business performance.

"With cost efficient training and funding available, employers of all sizes can get good quality.

"In some cases training may be free if employees are eligible."

NVQ training from learndirect Business can provide numerous benefits including increased employee competence and confidence, better organisational efficiency, greater productivity, and a lower staff turnover rate.

When W H Barley, a transport company based in Milton Keynes, wanted a flexible training solution to improve the skills of its employees, it turned to learndirect Business.

The firm, which employs 72 people, decided to boost its employees' skills by giving them the opportunity to complete a Customer Service NVQ.

Clive Keitch, finance director at W H Barley, said: "Unlike other industries, employees in the transport sector often don't realise the role they play in customer service.

"Therefore, this was an important step in helping them recognise the significance of their role.

"The learndirect Business NVQs are a really flexible way to train employees as they can be completed on-line at a convenient time so they don't disrupt employees' day to day activities.

"Overall, NVQs gave the team a new level of confidence and pride in their work. They've been so successful we now offer NVQs in warehousing and accounts."

Loadsa dough as pizza giant's sales rise

MILTON Keynes based pizza giant Domino's has seen its sales soar.

Sales climbed 13 per cent at outlets open at least 12 months in the current year's first 16 weeks the Kingston based company said in a statement.

Higher sales boost the contribution from each franchised store to the pizza maker's national advertising fund, adding to the marketing budget.

Sales growth 'was driven by product and marketing innovations and our continuing focus on improving operational standards, and in particular improving delivery times', chairman Stephen Hemsley said in the statement.

Analysts expected Domino's to earn £21.6 million for the year before taxes

A total of 13 new stores have opened in the UK so far in 2008.

MORECAMBE
League Two
Saturday, May 3. KO 3pm
stadiummk

THERE is nothing to play for except a little pride which usually means the game will be a cracker.

The Dons will want to end their magnificent season in style and celebrate the league and cup double winning year with another victory at stadiummk.

While Morecambe may not have titles and cups to their name they have also had a successful season.

The Shrimps' play-off dreams may have fallen flat at the final stages, but surviving in the Football League in their first season is an impressive achievement in itself.

Sammy McIlroy would have been licking his lips at the prospect of returning to Wembley a year after securing League Two football.

But unfortunately for the charismatic Shrimps boss he will have to make to with a mid-table finish following a poor end to the 2007/08 campaign.

Morecambe will be kicking themselves knowing it could have been better as they have only collected nine points from 33 available since March.

Back in September Morecambe made the Dons work extremely hard to leave Christie Park with three points.

On the day it was a spectacular Lloyd Dyer strike that earned the Dons a tough 1-0 win, and sent them to the top of the league for the first time.

A win on Saturday would end the Dons' point tally on a superb 99 but fans won't care because they will be enjoying the party atmosphere.

DONS boss Paul Ince is the best manager in the Football League, according to the League Managers Association.

Ince tops the Managers' Performance table which was devised to allow managers from every level of League football to test themselves against one another.

Every competitive game counts towards a manager's individual score in the League. Points are awarded for victories and draws, with results away from home scoring higher.

Points for clean sheets and goals-scored accumulate throughout the season, whilst a team's winning margin also counts towards the total.

Ince currently has 133 points, five more than second placed Rafa Benitez. Rochdale manager Keith Hill is in third place.

SKIPPER Keith Andrews has been named in the League Two Team of the Week.

The Dons' inspirational midfielder has been named in the best eleven for the eleventh time this season.

League Two Team of the Week in full: Russell Hault (Notts County), Paul Green (Lincoln City), Karl Broadhurst (Hereford), Pablo Mills (Rotherham), Neil Ashton (Macclesfield), Shaun Whalley (Accrington Stanley), Richard Butcher (Notts County), Keith Andrews (MK Dons), Jason Puncheon (Barnet), Aaron Mclean (Peterborough), Gareth Evans (Macclesfield).

THE Dons' scheduled reserve clash with Grays Athletic was postponed on Monday night.

The game was set to be played at Newport Pagnell Town's Willen Road.

The coach set to take Gray's to the match was in a collision, none of their players were involved in the crash.

A new fixture will not be rearranged.

MK DONS v BRADFORD SATURDAY, APRIL 26

Jude Stirling heads home MK Dons opening goal against Bradford

Dons champs

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

MK Dons capped off their brilliant season by claiming the League Two title on Saturday.

A 2-1 win over Bradford City ensured the Dons scooped the Championship with one game to go.

The trophy cabinet at stadiummk will look considerably fuller this weekend when the Dons collect the prize they have been gunning for in 46 games, a staggering 4140 minutes. The League Two trophy will sit alongside their Johnstone's Paint Trophy.

On the way to the triumphant Double winning season the Dons equalled a 61-year Football League record of 18 away victories.

Their title winning season has been built on the phenomenal record on the road, only three teams have denied them three points on their travels.

More than 900 hardcore Dons fans made the trip to Bradford knowing the team were within inches of being named champions.

But when Bradford came out fans could have been forgiven for thinking a win would be a little more difficult than they had first imagined.

Not only did the Dons have to contend with 13,000 home fans, they had to ruin David Wetherall's final game at Valley Parade.

The long serving defender will hang up his boots in the summer to take up a coaching role with the Bantams.

Early exchanges between the sides were fast and furious. Peter Thorne could have put the home side ahead within ten minutes, but his shot came from a difficult angle and only managed to ripple the side netting.

Kylie Nix almost sneaked through when he saw a sloppy back pass from Dean Lewington, fortunately for the Dons Willy Gueret cleared.

The Dons then did what they do best, turned on the style and destroyed the Bantams on the break.

We've done it: Paul Ince reacts after MK Dons win the league

Like he has all season, Lloyd Dyer raced off on the counter attack then showed brilliant vision as he delivered a pin-point cross into the box for Jude Stirling to match at the far post.

Falling a goal behind did not cause panic for Bradford, in fact they were straight back in the Dons half trying to force an equaliser.

In a matter of minutes Carl Regan had cleared off the line and Jude Stirling had thumped two corners over his own bar.

The sucker punch then came for Stuart McCall's side as they watched the Dons celebrate their second five minutes after scoring their first.

This time Stirling went from scorer to provider as he returned the favour to Dyer with an incredible throw-in that the winger simply slotted past Scott Loach.

It seemed to go from bad to worse for Bradford as they were reduced to ten men six minutes before the break when Joe Colebeck was shown a straight red for a reckless two footed lunge on Dean Lewington.

Despite the one man disadvantage Bradford went in at half-time with their heads held high as Omar Daley pulled one back when he took advantage of an error by Danny Swailes and squeezed his shot beyond Gueret.

Aaron Wilbraham could have wrapped up the result in the second half with a Robbie Keane-like trick on Loach. The striker appeared behind the Bantams' goalie as he lined up a kick, once he had possession Wilbraham lobbed for what he was hoping to be the Dons' third, instead it smashed the woodwork – much to the relief of an embarrassed Loach.

Soaked in Champagne, after the final whistle boss Paul Ince described it as the 'perfect season' and not one Dons fan would disagree.

Famous four: Keith Andrews, Lloyd Dyer, Danny Swailes and Dean Lewington were all picked for the team of the Year

Four make PFA's Team of the Year

FOUR MK Dons players have been named in the Professional Footballers' Association League Two Team of the Year.

Keith Andrews, Lloyd Dyer, Danny Swailes and Dean Lewington were voted by their fellow pros as the cream of the crop in the division.

The Dons dominate the side while fellow promotion winners Peterborough United have three players included.

Former Don Jason Puncheon was also named in the league's best following a superb season with Barnet.

It has been an incredible season for the Dons' players, especially skipper Andrews who scooped League Two Player of the Year in March.

The midfielder has had his most prolific season in front of goal with 14 in all competitions and he has lead the side to the Cup and League Double.

Dyer's performances on the flanks this year have terrorised oppositions and his lethal strike has seen him notch up 11 league goals.

Centre-back Swailes has arguably been Paul Ince's best signing. Since following his old boss from Macclesfield to Milton Keynes Swailes has formed a solid partnership in defence with Sean O'Hanlon.

And fans favourite Dean Lewington continued to be his usual self in the 2007/08 campaign.

The ever-present left-back is unchallenged in his place in the squad because he rarely makes a mistake due to his confidence and natural ability to read the game.

PFA League Two Team of the Year in full: Jon Lewis (Peterborough), Craig Pead (Brentford), Stephen Foster (Darlington), Danny Swailes (MK Dons), Dean Lewington (MK Dons), Jason Puncheon (Barnet), Keith Andrews (MK Dons), Lloyd Dyer (MK Dons), George Boyd, (Peterborough), Jack Lester (Chesterfield), Aaron McLean (Peterborough).

FANS' FAVOURITE WRITES FOR YOU

PAUL MITCHELL

CHAMPIONS! What a fantastic season it has been. I don't think I can remember any team or manager doing the lower league's Double. Not even the greatest of believers could have dreamt of a better year.

Hopefully this season will have sent out a large message to the rest of the footballing world that MK Dons are not only here but here to stay. Maybe one day we'll grace the top flight, well I and the rest of the Dons army can certainly dream.

Once again on Saturday we showed what an frightening prospect we have been on our travels. The win over Bradford not only made us champions but also equal the league record for most away wins. I for one can't wait for Saturday's game to see us crowned champions and each player, the manager and his staff receive their medals. For me, no club deserves it more and all the hard work and dedication has certainly paid off. There's a saying in football that the league table doesn't lie and we certainly deserve to be where we are.

I really can't put into words what an achievement this season has been and I wouldn't like to be in your shoes when your voting for the Player of the Year! It could easily be one of many candidates.

I personally feel that success like we have had this season doesn't happen every year so, on Saturday, we need to savour every minute. This club deserves great times and hopefully, with a bit of luck, there will be many more to come.

A big "thank you" has to go to the fans, who really have outdone themselves this term. I think all the players and manager really do believe that you have been are 12th man in many a game this season and, on a personal note, I would also like to thank you all for helping me though a very tough season in my career.

To quote the Gaffer, you have all been awesome, and I'm sure you will be again on Saturday.

BASKETBALL

Play-off final spot in reach

MK LIONS 105
Williams 27, Younglblood 26, Windless 17
SCOTTISH ROCKS 93
Davis 24, Wohlers 21, Yanders 16

A MOUTH-WATERING BBL Cup final rematch between MK Lions and Newcastle Eagles will take place this weekend as the two sides battle it out for a spot in the BBL play-off final.

The Lions, who reached the semi-finals for the first time in 21-years, became the first side through to the finals weekend when they beat Scottish Rocks last week, but they then faced an anxious wait to find out who their opponents would be.

Yorick Williams scored 27 points, while Terrell Brown contributed 11 points and an amazing 16 assists.

Undoubtedly the Lions have the toughest challenge ahead of them to reach the final as Newcastle Eagles have beaten them three times in the league this year and were recently crowned BBL champions.

But that will not faze the Lions as they know the National Indoor Arena is the scene of their greatest triumph.

Four months ago the Lions recorded their most important victory, ironically against Newcastle Eagles, to lift their first ever piece of silverware.

If lightning strikes twice and Vince Macauley's side overcome a terrific Newcastle outfit they would face the winner of the Guildford Heat - Plymouth Raiders match the following day.

The BBL Finals weekend is the biggest show piece event in British basketball as four of the highest standard games are played over a two day event.

Meanwhile, the Lions' Yorick Williams has been named in the Great Britain squad that will begin preparations for the 2008 Eurobasket Division A campaign.

Williams is one of five players from the BBL to be named in the 33-man squad.

■ TIP-OFF is 3.30pm on Saturday at the National Indoor Arena. On Sunday the play-off runners up will go head-to-head at 1.30pm. The final takes place at 5pm.

MOTOR RACING

In-form Webber in the points

RED Bull Racing have taken a step forwards after Mark Webber's fifth placed finish doubled their seasons points tally.

The Aussie driver capped off his brilliant weekend in Spain with his highest place of the season so far.

In doing so he moved to eighth place in the Drivers' Championship with eight points to his name, while Red Bull leapfogged Renault into sixth.

Once again Red Bull's success story was not quite what it could have been as David Coulthard was hit by one problem after another and could only manage to cross the line in 12th.

But even that was a decent position considering the Scotsman's nightmare qualifying that left him trailing in 17th.

It had all been going a little too smoothly for Coulthard as a number of retirements elsewhere helped him move up the grid with a real chance of taking points.

Mark Webber in action

Then German rookie Timo Glock shunted into the RB3 causing a puncture to the left-rear tyre and forcing the 37-year-old back to the pits.

The unscheduled stop pushed Coulthard back down to the wrong end of the track where he was left to struggle through to twelfth.

While luckless Coulthard is yet to see his season take off, the Milton Keynes-based racing team have taken great confidence from the fantastic form shown by Webber.

CRICKET

IGNORE all the glamour of the new Indian Premier League where superstars are paid a fortune, the real action and drama is in the local cricket leagues which got under way at the weekend.

MORRANTS FOUR COUNTIES CRICKET LEAGUE

DIVISION ONE

EATON BRAY are leading the way at the top of the table despite drawing their opening match with ASPLEY GUISE.

James Flecknall led the way for Bray with 105 runs while Will Hoskins (64) and Paul Harris (41) added to the 254-3 target.

Gary Ellerton's brilliant spell with the ball saw him claim 3-27 as Aspley Guise could only manage 140-9 in reply.

CUBINGTON are second as they picked up 17 points for their draw with OLNEY TOWN. Steve George's knock of 120 not out set up a tough 233-5 lead for Olney to chase. Through Chris Soul (57no) they managed to bat out their innings.

DIVISION TWO

SOULBURY recorded a 67 run victory over MENTMORE to move to the top of division two.

OPEN UNIVERSITY'S 105 all out was easily matched by EDLESBOROUGH who won with eight wickets to spare, and STEWKLEY took five points from a draw with ELSTOW.

DIVISION THREE

CADDINGTON and MILTON BRYAN are sharing the honour at the top.

Milton Bryan eased to victory they recorded a nine wicket win over Eggington and Caddington's 96-6 was enough to give them 25 points.

SHENLEY CHURCH END drew with DRAYTON PARSLOW and are now in third place.

DIVISION FOUR

MILTON KEYNES CITY won the local derby with Milton Keynes.

City were all out for 170 and MK could only respond with 95.

STEEPLE CLAYDON suffered an eight wicket defeat at the hands of Harlington.

DIVISION FIVE

LITTLE HORWOOD are sitting at the top after beating TURVEY by 11 runs while OLNEY TOWN one wicket defeat to CUBINGTON leaves them in third place.

NORTHANTS CRICKET LEAGUE

STONY STRATFORD started their season with a well earned draw at Northampton Saints.

Northants, who had former Lancashire batsman Alec Swann in their side, were in fantastic form as they racked up 277-5.

Swann was dropped twice before passing 30 and he went on to reach 114no.

Stony's response did not look promising as they collapsed at 42-3 but Paul West (87) and Douglas Aris (73) put on a stand of 147 to draw the match.

MKSPORTSSHORTS

Local football

STONY STRATFORD TOWN finished fourth in league one of their South Midlands campaign. The spot was confirmed with a 3-0 win at the weekend over Harpenden Town.

NEW BRADWELL ST PETER play their last game of the season tonight, but their scoreless draw with BUCKINGHAM ATHLETIC on Saturday has blown their chances of finishing fifth.

Second from bottom placed WINSLOW UNITED saw their poor season come to an end in a 2-2 draw with Haringey Borough.

In division two OLD BRADWELL UNITED beat Markyate 4-1 and MURSLEY UNITED drew 1-1 with Padbury United.

OLNEY TOWN finished ninth in the United Counties division one losing 1-0 to Bugbrooke St Michaels.

Old hands help kids

A TRIO of current and former MK Lightning players are returning to the squad to lend a hand with the youth team.

Belfast Giant's Leigh Jamieson, Lightning's Ross Bowers and MK Thunder's Mark Woolf are all helping MK Storm, Milton Keynes' Junior ice hockey team, as they prepare for the National Finals on May,17 and 18.

The club are providing their youngsters with extra ice time with Jamieson, Bowers and Woolf all using their experience and skills for their old side.

Nick Poole, the director of coaching at the junior club said: "The fact that some of our former juniors have offered their time is very gratifying and testament to the atmosphere we have here at the club."

Talks on with midfield maestros

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

LEAGUE Two champions MK Dons are already building for next season.

Just 48 hours after claiming the League and Cup double Dons boss Paul Ince sat down with chairman Pete Winkelman to discuss the plans for League One.

And Ince has made keeping Keith Andrews and Lloyd Dyer at the club his top priority.

The midfield duo have earned rave reviews throughout the season for their consistently high performances and Ince knows their headline grabbing displays will have caught the attentions of clubs elsewhere.

In January Andrews, who was named along side Dyer, Danny Swailes and Dean Lewington in the PFA League Two Team of the Year, had Championship sides trying to prize him away but the skipper snubbed the offers.

"To be fair to Keith he wanted to stay and be part of the team," Ince said, "At that time he felt the team could go forward and as far as I can see he made the right decision to stay on."

Andrews currently has another year left on his contract and Ince is keen to extend the deal as soon as possible.

"At the end of the season I'm sure we'll have interest from other clubs, that all comes with success.

"I want to sit down with the chairman and Keith to put a new deal in front of him. It's important for us to keep him, he's been a revelation for us this year."

Ince also revealed discussion with Dyer, who is out of contract in the summer, have already begun.

"I will never hold anybody here if they don't want to play here. Lloydy has been exceptional for us all season, by the way he is playing you can see he is happy here. At the moment we are negotiating with his agent."

Over the summer the Dons' Gaffer will be hunting down two recognised strikers to help the side compete in League One.

But as well as new additions there will also be casualties as the Dons make room for new signings.

"I haven't had much time to sit down and think about the ins and outs. Unfortunately, the sad thing about football is you have to let people go. It's my job to be ruthless, take a look at the team and see where we can be stronger."

The Dons are set to smash this year's League Two attendance record, which stands at 15,510, this Saturday against Morecambe.

Fans will pile into stadiummk to see the Dons sign off their historic season in style and parade the League Two trophy and the Johnstone's Paint Trophy at the end of the game.

"This year has been about breaking records. It will be great to see the stadium filled, the fans have been fantastic all season and next year we'll need them week in, week out."

Best coach award for Lions boss

MK Lions coach Vince Macauley has scooped a top basketball award.

Macauley has been voted the Molten Coach of the Season following a record breaking year for the Lions.

Under his stewardship, the Lions have won their first ever piece of silverware, the BBL Cup in January; they have finished in their highest ever league position, in fourth place and achieving home court advantage in the play-offs for the first time and they have also made it to the BBL Finals weekend for the first time in their twenty-one year history.

The success comes after Macauley, also the Lions' owner, took over the coaching duties last summer.

It is not the first honour the 47-year-old has gained this year. He also collected the Molten Coach of the Month gong in December when his side won five in five.

The award was voted by the basketball media, Macauley took 42 per cent of the vote ahead of Fabulous Flournoy, who has won the BBL Championship this season and is in the hunt for what would be a BBL-record fourth consecutive play-off title, and Paul James of the Guildford Heat.

Macauley said: "I could not have done this without the support of my wife who has been fantastic, Mike New and Roger Malpass my assistants, without Nigel Lloyd who encouraged me to do it last summer and without Kevin Cadle who has reminded me what I am doing it for each and every day.

"Of course none of this is possible without the best set of players a coach would want."

Macaulay will be presented with his award on the court at the BBL Finals Weekend.
